FAFSA Simplification

While you've been gone, we've learned more from the U.S. Department of Education about the 2024-25 FAFSA. Be sure to check out our FAFSA Simplification flyer to read the most recent updates.

Key takeaways:

- The FAFSA won't open until sometime in December this year.
- Student and parent FSA IDs must be created a few days before beginning the 2024-25 FAFSA.
- All students and parents contributing their information on the FAFSA must provide consent to have their 2022 federal income tax data transferred to the FAFSA form from the IRS.

UCanGo2 Student Workbooks

Our new 2023-24 High School and Middle School Student Workbooks will be released in late August. We've updated the information and provided a fresh, new look to share helpful tips and data for you and your students. We'll announce the availability of our new materials when they're ready to download for your use. You'll find them at UCanGo2.org.

Are You Looking for Money?

Our popular booklet, Are You Looking for Money?, will also be available later this month. It will include information about federal and state financial aid, as well as some new and helpful scholarship resources such as a Scholarship Tracker and Tips for Writing a Successful Scholarship Essay.
